

Dear Intern,

Welcome to your internship with PurpleState Solutions! We're excited that you'll be working with us for the next few weeks.

You will need a User ID to access our company's custom software.

Your Intern User ID:

Password: password

PurpleState is proud to provide sophisticated high-quality strategic communications consulting for candidates, politicians, and special interest groups who represent the entire political spectrum. PurpleState's work emphasizes cutting edge use of polling data and social media, adheres to the strictest ethical standards, and is illustrative of high-quality political media campaigns designed to persuade the public.

During your internship, you'll be working as a campaign design intern to help clients develop political media campaigns on controversial public policy issues. PurpleState believes that teamwork creates success for us and our clients, so you'll be working with other interns and your account manager using the company emails found on the company portal. Please respect the professionalism of the office.

Congratulations, and welcome to the firm.

Sincerely,

Alex Stone

Account Executive